COLLEGE PREPARATION STANDARDS FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Preparation Standard Requirements: This page describes Minnesota State University preparation requirements effective Fall 1994. This will help you determine which of your high school courses count for college preparation. The following are only examples to help you. If you aren't sure if a course meets the requirements, ask your counselor.

English: 4 years. English courses help you learn to read, write, and speak in English. Appropriate courses emphasize English usage, writing, style, theory analysis, understanding, evaluation, research, and public speaking. Courses that focus only on technical applications (for example, graphics and layout or speed reading) do not generally count. Examples of appropriate courses include modern fiction, world literature, American literature, composition, college writing, public speaking, and speech.

Mathematics: 3 years. Preparation for college requires two years of algebra (of which one is intermediate or advanced algebra) and one year of geometry. Appropriate math courses help you learn to solve problems, use reasoning skills, and understand statistical and computational processes.

Science: 3 years. Science courses that meet this requirement should help you learn how to use scientific facts, analyze problems, and develop a scientific vocabulary. They should focus on theory, knowledge, principles, methods and their application. At least one course must be in a biological science and one in physical science. All courses should include laboratory experiences. Examples of appropriate courses are anatomy and physiology, biology, botany, zoology, astronomy, earth science, chemistry, physics, physical science and geology.

Social Studies: 3 years. Social studies courses teach you about the nations and cultures of the world and provide skills to help you participate in a democracy. Appropriate courses will focus on the knowledge, theories and methods of the social sciences; teach research writing skills and foster a tolerance for conflicting viewpoints. At least one course or its equivalent in U.S. history and one in geography are required. Examples of appropriate courses are U.S. history, world history, civics, political science, government, economics, and geography.

World Language: 2 years. Appropriate courses focus on listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills; provide conversational experiences; and foster an understanding and knowledge of the culture. Any language, including American Sign Language (ASL) is acceptable. "Sampler" or language review courses do not meet this requirement.

World Culture or The Arts: 1 year. To be prepared for college and participate in our global society you need to understand and appreciate diverse cultures and be able to express yourself in diverse ways. Examples of appropriate courses in each area are as follows:

- World Culture. These are non-language courses that teach about other cultures, provide a global perspective, and foster an understanding of other cultures. Examples of appropriate courses are area studies (such as Asian studies), Russia/China international relations, and ethnic studies (such as African-American studies).
- The Arts. Appropriate art courses focus on creating or performing, teach about the history of an art form and its place in cultures and foster aesthetic appreciation. Ideally these courses will include both creative expression and history/criticism. Appropriate courses include music (vocal, instrumental, theory, composition), theater and drama (performance, production), dance (performance, choreography), visual arts (photography, painting, drawing, sculpture), and survey courses (art history, music history, history of the theater).
