

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Borrower – The person who agrees to repay all money, interest, and fees by the end of a predetermined period.

Co-signer – The person(s) who agrees to repay a loan if the borrower does not. This person is liable to repay all loan funds not repaid by the borrower.

Co-signer release – A provision in some student loans that allows the co-signer to be released from its obligation to repay the loan. This usually occurs after a predetermined number of on-time payments have been made.

Credit ready – A borrower whose credit is not yet credit worthy, but one who does not have any bad marks on their credit report or one that doesn't have a credit file long enough to allow for borrowing at the best rates and terms.

Credit worthy – A borrower is credit-worthy if a lender feels that they have a strong enough score to allow for borrowing without a cosigner and receives better terms.

Default – Occurs when a borrower does not repay their loans. Being in default on a loan will negatively impact a borrower's credit score. If a federal loan is in default, the borrower would not be able to receive any federal financial aid until the obligation has been satisfied.

Deferment – A period of time during repayment in which the federal student loan borrower, upon meeting certain conditions, is not required to make loan payments. For subsidized loans, the federal government pays the interest during a deferment. For other loans, the interest accrues and is capitalized, and the borrower is responsible for paying it.

Forbearance – occurs when the lender or servicer allows the borrower to temporarily postpone scheduled payments or temporarily make smaller payments. Some forbearances are available for all eligible borrowers; others are granted at the discretion of the lender or servicer.

Guaranty Agency – The organization that will repay a loan to a lender if the borrower or co-signer defaults. This would also be the organization that will attempt to collect the loan from the defaulted borrower.

Lender – the organization that provides the money that is lent.

Secondary Market – An organization that buys student loans from lenders, so that they will free up money to loan to new students.

Servicer – The organization that does the administrative work on behalf of a lender (often the guaranty agency). This would be the organization to which you would send payments, deferment forms, and other loan related forms.

Minnesota State Mankato requires that a complete valid FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) be on file prior to the processing of student loans.

The FAFSA can be completed online at: www.fafsa.ed.gov/

FEDERAL PARENT LOAN FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS PROGRAM (PLUS)

The Federal PLUS Loan provides loans to parents of dependent undergraduate students attending post-secondary schools. The parent is the borrower of the PLUS Loan and is responsible for paying the interest and principal on the loan while the student is in school. Since July 1, 2006 the interest rate on the Federal PLUS Loan is capped at 8.5%.

To apply for a PLUS Loan, a PLUS Loan Request and a Master Promissory Note (MPN) are required.

Please complete and submit a PLUS Loan Request form, available at www.mnsu.edu/campushub/plus, to Student Financial Services.

Complete an online PLUS MPN for the selected lender at www.mnsu.edu/campushub/loans/FASTChoice under the "Parent PLUS" tab. The online PLUS MPN can be completed and signed using the parent PIN code used to electronically sign the student's FAFSA. If the parent does not have a Federal PIN, one can be obtained from the U.S. Department of Education at www.pin.ed.gov.

For subsequent PLUS Loan requests you will need to complete and submit a PLUS Loan Request form, available at www.mnsu.edu/campushub/plus, to Student Financial Services.

Dependent students whose parents are denied the PLUS Loan may be eligible to receive additional funds from the Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan Program. A denial letter from the lender must be submitted to Student Financial Services; at that time the eligibility for additional funds will be determined and processed according to the student's request.

The PLUS MPN is valid for up to ten years, provided that the parent borrows within one year from the date the MPN was signed, and the parent uses the same lender and guaranty agency for each requested amount in subsequent years. If the PLUS MPN is still valid, the parent/borrower need only submit the PLUS Loan Request Form to Student Financial Services to apply for additional funds.

If the parent-borrower is applying for Federal PLUS Loan funds for more than one student, a separate PLUS Loan Request Form (and PLUS MPN, if needed) must be submitted for each student.

FEDERAL GRADUATE PLUS LOAN

Graduate students have the option to borrow a Federal Graduate PLUS Loan. This is a federal student loan; however, unlike the Federal Stafford Loan program the Federal Graduate PLUS borrower must meet the credit criteria for the lender they select. It is strongly recommended that students exhaust their Federal Stafford Loan eligibility because of the more favorable loan program terms before they consider a Federal Graduate PLUS Loan.

To apply for a Graduate PLUS Loan submit a Graduate PLUS Loan Request form, available at www.mnsu.edu/campushub/gradplus, to Student Financial Services and complete an online Master Promissory Note (MPN) for the selected lender, available through the same web page. Loan entrance counseling is required and can be completed online at www.mappingyourfuture.org/Graduate.

STUDENT EDUCATIONAL LOAN FUND PROGRAM (SELF)

The Student Educational Loan fund (SELF) Program is an educational loan provided by the Minnesota Office of Higher Education. The program is unique to Minnesota and the Office of Higher Education is the only lender in the program.

Minnesota residents attending eligible post-secondary institutions in-state or out-of-state, and nonresidents physically attending post-secondary institutions within Minnesota are eligible to apply, including non-U.S. citizens.

There are no application fees, processing fees, or guarantee fees required in the SELF program.

The student is the borrower of the SELF Loan and is responsible for making quarterly interest payments while in school. As of April 1, 2009 the interest rate is 4.7%. The interest rate varies quarterly, throughout the life of the loan, however the interest rate will never vary more than 3% in any twelve-month period. The interest charged is the sum of the margin, which is currently 3.5%, added to the index, which is based on the average rounded to the nearest tenth of one percent of the three-month London Interbank Offered Rates (LIBOR) during the previous calendar quarter.

SELF has no deferment options, and there are limited forbearance options.

The SELF Loan application process is available at www.ohs.state.mn.us/self/apply.cfm. Students wishing to borrow SELF Loan funds for the first time will be directed through an entrance loan counseling process at this site as well.

ALTERNATIVE EDUCATIONAL LOANS FROM PRIVATE LENDERS

Several private lenders offer educational loan programs. The terms of these alternative loans vary from one lender to another. Some have fees attached to the loans along with interest. Repayment options also vary from one lender to another.

To be eligible for an alternative loan, students must meet the specific requirements of the loan they select. Most lenders require a creditworthy co-signer. Minnesota State Mankato policy requires that a FAFSA must be on file in order for Student Financial Services to process an alternative loan application, regardless of the lender's requirements. There are limited exceptions to the FAFSA requirement for students who are prohibited from completing the FAFSA process; these students must meet with a financial aid advisor for approval before the alternative loan application will be processed.

Detailed information about these other loan options, including specific features and application processes, are included in the following pages.

The following loans are available to students to assist in meeting their Cost of Attendance (COA). The COA is listed on the award letter as the Institutional Budget. Requested loan amounts must be within the COA established by Student Financial Services. Please remember, loans must be repaid. Budget carefully; borrow only what you need.
