“Job Search Success in a Tough Economy”

Exhibits- Wednesday - Each organization will exhibit from 9am- 1pm in the CSU Ballroom. Space, location, and electricity will be allocated based on your date of registration.

Panel Discussion-Wednesday - One-hour informal panel discussions by our departments will consist of departmental representatives along with representatives from other organizations that will focus on a variety of career opportunities in their disciplines. If you would like to participate in a panel discussion, please contact us.

Snack Assortments – Snacks and beverages will be available during the event.

Interviewing Schedules- Wednesday and Thursday - Representatives are invited to arrange interview schedules after 1pm on Wednesday, February 3 or on Thursday, February 4. You may also arrange to conduct interviews at a later date with the Career Development Center.

The College of Social and Behavioral Sciences provides strong, discipline-based and interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts degree programs recognized for their high quality by program graduates, their families, academic peers, and the public. These degree programs will give students in-depth knowledge in their chosen field as well as life skills in critical and creative thinking, oral and written communication, individual and group problem solving, use of information technologies and other research tools, and an appreciation of cultural diversity and democratic values. All of our programs help students understand how the skills and knowledge they are learning will apply in professional settings.
