Minnesota State University President Richard Davenport looks over his notes before beginning a groundbreaking ceremony Friday for the Julia A. Sears Residence Hall to be built on campus. University officials also broke ground on an addition to the Trafton Science Center.