Professionals Committed to Diversity

BIO

Name: Linda Duckett, D.Mus.

Current Position and Dept:

Professor, Department of Music

Co-chair, President's Commission on Diversity

Her Personal Vision on Diversity:

When we look to the essence of another's heart, soul, and mind, we are mindful and respectful of that person's humanity, not of the things that might separate us.

Her Goals and Visions about Diversity at MSU:

It is an honor and a privilege to be working actively to foster diversity at Minnesota State, Mankato. Diversity is about individuals working together as a team, respecting and celebrating people, cultures, traditions, and the richness and variety of our humanity. It is our hope that our university will become the "universe" for all our members, and that each of us and all of us will be well prepared to live successfully in a global society. Diversity is about building trust, building relationships, and building community; diversity is about justice, integrity, civility, and respect; and building diversity is about our shared efforts to bring those noble and honored words and goals to reality on campus.

She is a member of Diversity Commission Since 2006.
