Minnesota State Mankato Student Awarded Jane M. Klausman Women in Business Scholarship

Minnesota State student Olivia Robinson (Management ’18) was recently awarded the Jane M. Klausman Women in Business Scholarship from the Zonta Club of Mankato. According to their website, Zonta International established the Jane M. Klausman Women in Business Scholarship “to encourage more women to pursue education and careers in business.” Any woman who is “pursuing an accredited business or business-related program who demonstrate outstanding potential in the field” is eligible to apply for the award through a local Zonta club.

In addition to being an active member of the women’s golf team, Robinson is involved in the Honors Program, Enactus, and the IBE Program on campus. She also serves as a facilitator for the Greater Mankato Diversity Council. She first learned about this scholarship from the Office of University Fellowships.
