• Always lock your doors
• Don’t leave valuables in your vehicle (trunk is the safest place)
Frauds

• How to spot a Fraud:
  < If it sound too good to be true it probably is.
  < If someone is paying substantially more than what the job is worth.
  < If someone overpays you and then wants you to send them money.
Frauds (cont)

< They claim you’ve won a prize and you need to send money to claim it.
< The job description/prize have grammatical, punctuation, and spelling errors in it.
< There are multiple names and address of people that you are supposed to send money to that differs from the person you are corresponding with.
Frauds (cont)

< A business claiming to be a credit card or banking institution, requests your full social security number, full information including name and date of birth, and banking account information. They should already have this information.

< Someone requests that you wire them money to a different country even though they claim to be from the US.
Someone claims that a friend or relative is in jail and you need to wire bail money.

The IRS calls and needs information over the phone related to your taxes.
What to do if you are a Victim

• Contact the FTC and file an Internet Fraud report 877-382-4357 or www.ftc.gov
• Contact your local Law Enforcement Agency.
• If a Fraudulent check was deposited in your banking account, call your bank. Do not withdraw this money.
Reality of Frauds

- Internet Frauds usually occur in different countries or states which make them difficult to prosecute.
- The people involved use fictitious names, addresses, and email accounts.
- TracFones are often used which are difficult to trace and are often disconnected after their use.

- Craigslist is often used to perpetrate the crimes.
- Don’t be a victim!!!
