

Procedure for Contract Admit Students

- 1) A student admitted under contract admit status will be monitored for performance on this contract. If a student meets the terms of the contract, that student will be removed from contract admit status and converted to regular admission status.
- 2) A student admitted under contract admit status will be monitored for performance on this contract. If a student fails to meet the terms of the contract, the student will have their admission rescinded by the university. To be reinstated by the University, the student will need to follow the policy for suspended students, and will need to apply for academic reinstatement in order to return to the university.
