MSU volleyball team downs Winona State

WINONA — Cathy Turner and Ashley Nachreiner each had 16 kills to lead the Minnesota State volleyball team to a 3-1 nonconference win over Winona State Tuesday.

Bouncing back from a first-game loss, the Mavericks won 27-30, 30-14, 30-22, 30-19.

Stef Sandstrom had a game-high 57 assists, and Cassie Wolpern delivered 11 kills and 13 digs for MSU. Teammate Dana Ostertag had a team-high 16 digs in the win.

The Mavericks had five service aces in the match, while Winona State had none.

The Mavericks (16-11) will return to North Central Conference play Friday at North Dakota.
