WOMEN'S STUDIES MS

College of Social & Behavioral Sciences

Women's Studies Department

109 Morris Hall • 507-389-2077

Chairperson: Carol Perkins, Ph.D.

Graduate Coordinator: Maria Bevacqua, Ph.D.

The Master of Science in Women's Studies is an interdisciplinary program which can be developed with each student's specific interests in mind. Based in the humanities and social sciences, it combines individual coursework, internships, cross-disciplinary seminars, and individual and cooperative research projects in a comprehensive program which is expressly feminist and oriented toward training activists. This program attracts students from the region, throughout the United States and from abroad. Women's Studies at Minnesota State University, Mankato is actively committed to anti-sexist, anti-classist, anti-racist and anti-heterosexist work. Students may combine interests in areas such as counseling, public policy, community action and teaching with feminist theory, methodology and knowledge. Departmental faculty areas of interest include feminist theory, lesbian studies, feminist pedagogy, research methodologies, feminist curricular change efforts, issues of class and classism, women in poverty, social policy, gender stratification, violence against women, women and work, women and aging, politics of health and film studies.

A graduate degree in Women's Studies is beneficial to any work experience in which women are affected--in other words, all. Women's Studies graduates are currently employed as battered women's shelter personnel, directors of human service programs including displaced homemaker services and community action and advocacy services, family therapists, Women's Studies instructors, newspaper editors, freelance and radio journalists, community organizers, cultural workers, K-12 teachers and college administrators. Other students have used their Women's Studies degrees as a rich preparatory base for doctoral work and law school.

Admission. In addition to meeting the general admission requirements of the College of Graduate Studies, a background in Women's Studies coursework and/or experience in community-based women's programs or organizations is required.

Financial Assistance. All applicants are encouraged to seek university sources of financial assistance through application to the Financial Aids Office. See Sources of Financial Assistance at the front of the Bulletin. Graduate assistantships are available in the Women's Studies Department, Women's Center, the Memorial Library and other campus offices. Second year students who meet requirements may apply for some teaching opportunities in Women's Studies.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

540 (3) Feminist Pedagogy

We explore the key philosophical and methodological issues in feminist pedagogy with an emphasis on application of the material learned. In addition to readings, discussions, and lectures, students develop a teaching philosophy, design a course, write a syllabus, prepare a lesson plan, teach a session, design evaluations, and develop a curriculum vitae.

545 (3) Women and Aging

Exploration of the forces of ageism in women's lives with the goal of naming and deconstructing interacting systems of oppression. Focus on work, health, sexuality, relationships, creativity, and policy issues affecting women across the life cycle. Cross cultural emphasis.

555 (3) Women, Sex and Identity

An exploration and overview of lesbian/bisexual/transgender identities. Possible topics include historical and cross-cultural perspectives; lesbian/bisexual/transgender identities in relation to class, race, age, ethnicity, and disability; lesbian feminism, images and stereotypes; legal status, and lesbian/bisexual/transgender cultures.

560 (1-4) Selected Topics

Offered according to student demand and instructor availability/expertise, topics courses provide curriculum enrichment on an ongoing basis.

590 (1-4) Workshop
