Fax: 389-5362
Web site: www.english.mnsu.edu

Chair: John Banschbach

The Department of English prepares students to study, understand and use the English language in order to:

- communicate through written composition
- comprehend and create written texts
- gain a critical and analytical understanding of texts
- prepare for careers in teaching, writing, editing, publishing and other professions that value such knowledge and skills.

The department's goals are

1) offering quality undergraduate education in creative writing, English education, linguistics, literature, and technical communication;

2) offering general education and service courses that foster effective reading, writing, speaking, and critical thinking, that promote an understanding of literature and film, and that promote an appreciation of the variety of cultures within our country and throughout the world;

3) contributing to students' education in writing and teaching by means of instruction in the effective use of communication technologies.

The department’s undergraduate programs prepare graduates for a wide variety of careers, including middle and high school English teaching, free-lance writing, literary publishing and editing, and technical and professional writing, publishing, and editing. Some English majors choose to go on for master's or doctoral degrees that will qualify them to teach at the college level. Others find careers in a wide range of fields in business, government, and non-profit organizations. Still others find that their English degree is an ideal gateway into training for professions such as law.

Admission to Major is granted by the department. ENG 101: Composition must be completed before admission for major. In addition, university requirements must be met.

INTERDISCIPLINARY MINOR IN COMMUNICATIONS (24 credits)
This interdisciplinary minor is for students who wish to enhance their communication skills for use in business and other professional settings. Students completing this minor will develop an understanding of contexts and rhetorical strategies for oral and written communication among professionals. Students will also develop their own ability to communicate through written texts, oral communication, and electronic formats. These skills are highly desirable by employers in a wide range of business, government, and nonprofit organizations. Students may major in any of the programs affiliated with this minor, but the courses taken for the minor will not count toward the major. Students must earn a "C" or better in English courses in order to apply them to the minor.

Required for Minor (14 credits):
ENG 271 Technical Communication (4)
ENG 474 Researching and Writing Technical Reports (4)
SPEE 325 Interviewing (3)
SPEE 412 Organizational Communication (3)

Policies/Information

GPA Policy. Candidates for the major degrees in the department must maintain a 2.5 grade-point average in all coursework in the major field, in addition to the 2.0 overall average required by the university for graduation. Students must earn a "C" or better for a course to apply to their major or minor.

P/N Grading Policy. Courses leading to a major or minor in English may not be taken on a P/N basis, except where P/N is mandatory.

Supporting Coursework. Since the different programs in English complement a wide range of different fields of study, English majors should consult regularly with their faculty advisors regarding choice of a minor and other elective courses beyond the major or minor. In consultation with faculty advisors, students may choose a second major instead of a minor.

English Majors and Minors. Students majoring in English may also elect one of the following minors: film studies, linguistics, and technical communication. However, a course used to meet the requirements of an English major, minor, or certificate cannot also be used to meet the requirements of another English major, minor, or certificate. Consequently, because the technical communications programs share so may required courses, students may elect only one of them:

BA English Studies Technical Communications Emphasis, BS English Technical Communications Option, the Certificate in Technical Communications, or the Technical Communications Minor.

Course Descriptions

ENG 100 (4) Introduction to Composition
A remedial writing course that progresses from personal writing to writing about readings and the use of sources.

ENG 101 (4) Composition
