The Nonprofit Leadership Program (NPL) is specially designed to respond to employment needs and opportunities within one of the fastest growing sectors of the United States economy. For those interested in the nonprofit sector and civil society, NPL provides a multidisciplinary program for undergraduate students and nonprofit practitioners. NPL is an applied program for those interested in gaining knowledge and skills for success and advancement in nonprofit leadership and management.

The undergraduate Nonprofit Leadership Minor (21 credits) and Nonprofit Leadership Certificate (18 credits) are a cooperative educational program between the College of Social and Behavioral Science and the College of Allied Health and Nursing. Within these two colleges five departments collaborate and share courses: Gender and Women's Studies; Recreation, Parks and Leisure Services; Sociology and Corrections; Social Work; and the Urban and Regional Studies Institute. The NPL program is open to all undergraduate students.

The program is designed to address the following entry-level nonprofit competencies:

- Communication skills;
- Computer/technology literacy skills;
- Historical and philosophical foundations in nonprofit leadership;
- Nonprofit marketing;
- Public policy;
- Fundraising principles and practices;
- Human resource development and nonprofit management; and
- Program planning
- Financial management

These competencies are achieved through the following program requirements.
