The screenshot shows the Handshake profile for NYU Journalism. At the top, there are navigation links for Jobs, Events, and Employers, along with Messages and Career Center. The profile header features the NYU Journalism logo, address (20 Cooper Square Sixth Floor New York, NY 10003), industry (Journalism, Media & Publishing), and employee count (50 - 100 employees). Below the header, there are tabs for Overview, Reviews, and Interviews. The main content area is divided into several sections: 'About NYU Journalism' with a description of the organization's mission; 'Contact Information' with website, phone, email, and links; 'Students Who've Worked Here' with three student profiles (Tiffany Sonola, Matt Fischetti, and Alexandra Aguirre) and 'Message' buttons; 'Jobs at NYU Journalism' with a note that no jobs are posted; and 'Public Staff List' with a note that no public staff are listed. Red arrows point to the 'Message' buttons for each of the three students.

About NYU Journalism
At New York University, we believe that journalism has a serious public mission, and can make a difference in the world. We want to educate those who agree. Opportunities abound in the media world, but the opportunity to do compelling work that informs, engages and matters to the societies in which we live—this is what drives our faculty, motivates our students, and shapes our basic approach.
Great journalism has always come from the great cities of the globe, and we believe that the city of New York is the best place to learn to be great. Here is where power and wealth concentrate, news
