Minnesota State Policy Lactation Space Access

Each university shall provide access to dedicated lactation spaces that are functional, appropriate, and safe for the sole purpose of providing clean, private, secure spaces to express milk. The lactation space must:

- Be in close proximity to work or class areas
- Be a room or space other than a bathroom or toilet stall
- Be shielded from view
- Be secure and free from intrusion from employees, students, and the public
- Include an electrical outlet
- Be clean, safe, and free of hazardous materials
- Be accessible to those with disabilities
- Include a place to sit and a flat surface for personal items
- Include access to a sink with running water within 100 feet of the space
- Include access to information regarding pregnant and parenting student protections

If you find any of lactation spaces on campus not meeting these expectations, please contact Liz Steinborn-Gourley in the Women's Center: wcenter@mnsu.edu or 507-389-6146.
