2. PSEO students can register for:
 - Up to 18 undergraduate credits per semester.
 - Most PSEO students will register for between 8-10 credits/semester.
 - 100-200 level general education courses.
 - Classes that do not exceed $100 in additional fees.

What Classes Should PSEO Students Prioritize?

Video Time: 0:50 – 2:04

1. A student's first priority should be to take required classes for high school graduation. Students should be meeting with their high school guidance counselor prior to class registration so that they understand what courses they should be taking.
2. Once a student has fulfilled all of their high school graduation requirements, they can start taking general education courses and/or classes that are intended towards their major of interest. This is something the PSEO Department can help students narrow down.

We encourage PSEO students to watch our video on general education requirements to learn more about class selection.

Recommendations

- To prepare for the upcoming semester, PSEO students should meet with their high school guidance counselor prior to registration to determine what classes they still need to take for high school.
- PSEO students should prioritize these high school classes above other course selections they may have in mind.
- Students should start thinking about their potential major and where they want to go to college when they graduate from high school. These are important questions a PSEO advisor will ask.
- Students should schedule a meeting with a PSEO advisor if they need help selecting classes.
