Suspended Students Applying for Admission to Another MnSCU School

A student suspended by MSU Mankato who is applying for admission to a different MnSCU institution may be admitted by another institution. However, the academic suspension hold must be lifted by the other institution. MSU Mankato will not lift the suspension hold under such circumstances.

The student should show this memo to the Admissions and/or Registrar’s Office at the receiving MnSCU institution which details Board procedures and an interpretation of those procedures as explained by the Associate Vice Chancellor.

Memorandum re: Admission of Suspended Students
Mike López, Associate Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

Suspension holds require a “time out” period of one year before a student on academic suspension may be considered for reinstatement. However, there may be cases where a student can demonstrate that he/she has the potential to be successful in a new academic program at a new institution, and so may be admitted. The decision to admit a student who is suspended from another college or university must be made by the receiving college or university. The receiving institution may override an academic suspension registration hold.
